DETAILED ACTION

Priority

This application is a national stage entry of International Application No. PCT.JP04/16676 and claims foreign priority to Japanese Application No. 2003-381557, filed on November 11, 2003 under 35 U.S.C. 119(a)-(d). The copy of certified copy of the priority has been filed with the instant Application. It is noted that Japanese Application No. 2003-381557 is in Japanese; no translation of said Japanese application into English has been provided.

Applicant's election without traverse of Group I, claims 1-4 in the reply filed on January 4, 2008 is acknowledged. Claims 1-4 are examined on the merits herein.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1 and 4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claims 1 and 4 are drawn to compositions for "improving allergic predisposition." "Allergic predisposition" is not explicitly defined in the specification, but is assumed to be a subject's susceptibility to allergic diseases, based on paragraph [0002] of the specification. However, it is unclear what constitutes an "improvement" in allergic predisposition (whether this amounts to prevention of allergic disease, treatment of such, decreasing the likelihood of occurrence of such, etc.).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

(a) the invention was known or used by others in this country, or patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country, before the invention thereof by the applicant for a patent.

Claims 1-4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Kiliaan et al. (WO 01/33975, May 17, 2001, equivalent of JP 2002-513893, PTO-1449 submitted May 9, 2006).

Kiliaan et al. teach nutritional compositions (agents) comprising hydrolyzed glucomannans and hydrolysed galactomannans for the treatment of allergic reactions [see abstract]. The intended use of a composition, such as "for improving allergic predisposition" or "for suppressing production of IgE antibody" does not impart patentability to a known composition.
